Zadanie 3 01

Girl: Look, it's a photo of my family at Christmas.

Boy: Are all those people your brothers and sisters?

Girl: No. This boy is my cousin, Paul.

Boy: Why is he holding a fishing rod?

Girl: He's going to go finishing I think.

Boy: At Christmas!?

Girl: I know... But he's crazy about fishing. That's why Hannah is annoyed. She's folded her arms and she's shaking her head. She's my older sister and she's always worried about everyone.

Boy: Have you got just one sister?

Girl: No, I have another sister, called Wendy. She's playing a computer game.

Boy: And what about the twin boys who are making model planes?

Girl: They're my brothers, Tim and Rob.

Boy: Which boy is Tim?

Girl: He's the one with a green sweater. He's always cold.

Boy: So, the boy in a baggy T-shirt must be Rob.

Girl: Yes.

Boy: And why aren't you in the photo?

Girl: I'm the photographer.

Girl: Hi, Mike. I've come by bike. Where can I leave it?

Boy: I keep my bike on the balcony but I think it's going to rain so leave it in the corridor.

Girl: No, it's not a good idea. The corridor's too narrow. I know, I'll leave it here, under the stairs.

2

Girl: How was your holiday, David?

Boy: Oh, it was fantastic!

Girl: Where did you go?

Boy: We wanted to go to the seaside but it was too expensive. My mum is afraid of swimming in rivers so we finally rented a small cottage by the lake. It was my best holiday ever!

3

Boy: Mum, have you seen my trainers? I think I left them under the table but I can't find them there.

Mum: Oh Billy, they were wet so I put them near the fireplace. But they're dry already and now they are in your wardrobe.

4

Woman: Welcome to our museum. In this room you can see old furniture used in Polish country houses two hundred years ago. This beautiful sofa here and this armchair are very old but the oldest object in our museum is this chest of drawers. But please don't touch the furniture and don't sit on the sofa!

5

Man: Jill, I'm going to put this picture up on the wall. Have a look. Should I put it under the clock or here, next to the door?

Woman: No, don't put it there. It'll look better between these two windows. It'll have more light there.

1

Teacher: Listen everyone! Tomorrow we're going on a coach trip to the science museum. We're going to have lunch in the museum cafeteria so please remember to bring 4 pounds each with you. And don't forget your notebooks, you're going to take notes.

2

Girl: Dad, can I join the After-School Art Club?

Dad: Well, I don't know... Is it expensive?

Girl: No, it's free! And they will give me paints and paper.

Dad: All right, then.

3

Girl: Last year I played football and I was in the school swimming team but this year I only have time for one sport because I have to take my final exams in June. I spend a lot of time in the library or the school computer room and revise for the test.

Woman: Excuse me, are you a shop assistant?

Man: Yes. How can I help you?

Woman: Is this chicken from the UK?

Man: Hmm... Sorry, I don't know. I work in the fruit and vegetable section.

Woman: Oh, right.

Man: The oranges are really cheap today.

Woman: Really?

2

Woman: So, what do you think?

Man: Well, it's ... interesting.

Woman: Just 'interesting'? I think it's the best picture this artist has ever painted. It looks amazing on the wall.

Man: Yeah, the colours are nice. Orange is my favourite.

Woman: It's much better than the drawings of nature and farm animals in the other room.

3

Man: Hi, Jane. What are you doing here?

Woman: I work on the farm at weekends.

Man: Really? What do you do?

Woman: Everything! I feed the animals and I pick fruit – oranges and apples.

Man: But what about your job in a clothes shop?

Woman: It was dull and badly-paid. And I didn't like the uniform, either. Now I love working outside.

Mum: Tom, are you busy now?

Boy: Yes, Mum, I'm watching a documentary for school. It's on the history of theatre.

Mum: Can you take the rubbish out when you finish?

Boy: Yes, Mum.

2

Woman: At school I learned to play the piano. Then I started practising the saxophone. I play in a small orchestra in my free time. But my dream is to play the acoustic guitar. It's difficult but I'd like to take it up one day.

3

Girl: Dad, it's Mum's birthday next week. I don't have any money to buy her a card.

Dad: You can draw her a birthday card yourself. I'm sure she'll love it.

Girl: Thanks, Dad, that's a great idea!

Man: What do people usually drink for breakfast in your country? My friends in the US usually have a glass of orange juice. Do you have tea like most people in England? We are Brazilian and we don't drink tea or orange juice. We all have coffee for breakfast. My coffee is not very strong and I drink it with milk.

2

Man: Hi, can I help you?

Girl: A tea, please.

Man: Here you are. It's £1.75. Would you like anything sweet with your tea?

Girl: Yes, a slice of cheesecake.

Man: That's £3.50. No, sorry. That's just £2.25. There's a special price if you buy a drink and something to eat.

Girl: Thank you.

3

Man: Mark, can you help? I need you in the kitchen. Can you fry two eggs and serve them on pieces of toast? And slice two carrots, please. I need them for the salad.

4

Woman: Peter, do you want to have some fruit salad for dessert today?

Boy: Yes, please. I love it.

Woman: OK. Can you go to the supermarket then and buy some fruit?

Boy: Have we got any strawberries?

Woman: Yes, there are plenty of strawberries and some grapes. But we haven't got any pears. Can you buy some?

Boy: OK. I'll be back soon.

5

Woman: When I was a child I didn't like most types of food. And my mum says that cooking for me was very difficult. For example, I used to hate sausages and I never ate meat. I hated mushrooms, too. I loved dairy products, though. I often had a cheese sandwich for breakfast, lunch and supper!

Man: Can I help you?

Woman: Yes, I'm looking for sunglasses.

Man: We've got some over there.

Woman: Hmm. How much are these round sunglasses?

Man: All the plastic ones are nine pounds.

Woman: I'll take them. Here you are.

Man: Thank you.

2

Girl: My parents give me some money every week. I spend just a little on music magazines and I put the rest in a money box. I'm saving because I want to buy new headphones.

3

Girl: Lucas, look at these jewellery boxes.

Boy: Yeah, what about them?

Girl: The triangular boxes are very nice. Why don't we get one for mum?

Boy: I haven't got any money now.

Girl: But it's her birthday next week and we need a present.

Boy: Right. Can you pay for it and I'll pay you back next week?

Girl: OK.

Mum: I don't believe it.

Boy: What's wrong, Mum?

Mum: Your train leaves in an hour and you are not ready! Let me help you pack your things.

Boy: Thanks, Mum.

Mum: Let's find your backpack first. We'll put everything inside it. Is it under the bed?

Boy: No, it's right here, next to the chair. I put some trousers, a few T-shirts and a sweater into it yesterday.

Mum: Good. Did you remember to pack your sleeping bag?

Boy: No, I didn't. It's in the wardrobe, at the bottom. I'll get it.

Mum: OK. Now, your passport.

Boy: I think I left it on the chair, but it isn't there.

Mum: Because it's on the desk. What about your map? I can't see it anywhere.

Boy: I'm sure it's under the desk. Let's check there. Yes, here it is, on the floor, under the desk.

Mum: That's everything. Get dressed and hurry up. Your dad's waiting.

Zadanie 5 09

Mum: Kids, can you come and help me in the kitchen?

Chris: Sorry, mum. We're all busy. We're decorating the Christmas tree.

Mum: I hope you're not putting a star on top of the tree. Wait for your dad, he'll do it.

Chris: Too late, mum. Jim is doing it. But he's fine. Bob is helping him.

Mum: What are you doing, Chris?

Chris: I'm putting an angel under the star.

Mum: And what are the girls doing?

Chris: They're arranging the presents under the tree. No, wait, Emma is arranging the presents and Susan is sitting on the sofa with her headphones on. Oh, no! She's going to practise singing Christmas carols!

10 Sport

Zadanie 4 10

1

Man: Wait a moment, John. I'm going to take a photo of you. Can you stand on your skateboard? And, please take off your cap – I can't see your face at all. Yes, that's perfect. It's going to be a great photo.

2

Man: The triathlon is a very difficult competition. Sportsmen have to do three different sports without any rest. First, they go swimming. They don't usually compete at a swimming pool, they have to swim in a lake. Then, they get their bikes and enter a long cycling race. The last sport is running.

3

Woman: These shorts are nice. Why don't you try them on?

Man: No, they are all too small for me.

Woman: What about these trainers, then? Do you like them?

Man: I don't need another pair of trainers. But look at these flip-flops! They're cheap and they're my size. I'll take them!

4

Woman: I love sports. I learnt to snowboard when I was a child. You know, my family live in the mountains. Then, I started mountain biking. It's my favourite sport even today. Now I'd like to try something new. I'll probably go horse riding next summer. I'm a bit scared because I haven't done it before.

5

Man: So, Anna, what sports do you like?

Woman: Well, I've just joined the volleyball team. We meet on Tuesdays and Fridays after school.

Man: Is your team any good?

Woman: Not really, we lose all our matches. I'm better at basketball. Every Thursday I meet my friends and we play basketball at the sports centre.

Boy: Excuse me, Mrs Murphy.

Woman: What's wrong, Mark?

Boy: I feel dizzy.

Woman: Oh dear. I'll open the window. Sit down next to it. Some cold air will help you. Are you any better?

Boy: No, I'm not feeling well.

Woman: Let me take you to the school nurse then.

Boy: OK.

2

Woman: How can I help you?

Boy: I'd like this cough medicine and some vitamins, please. I've got a cold.

Woman: Oh, I see. Here you are. Anything else?

Boy: Yes. Can I have a packet of tissues for my runny nose?

Woman: Of course.

Boy: How much is it?

Woman: That's £12.95.

3

Woman: What's the matter?

Boy: I had an accident during my P.E. lesson. We were playing basketball. I fell down and now my arm hurts.

Woman: OK, you have to wait for the doctor to see you, but she's with a different patient now.

Boy: OK, thank you.

Woman: You can sit over there. Close the window if you are cold.

Zadanie 6 12

1

Girl: In my family, we all care about the environment. For example, we recycle paper in our printer and we reuse plastic bags when we go shopping. We always switch off the lights when we leave the house. And we always have a shower – it's better than a bath because it uses less water.

2

Man: So, how was your trip to the zoo yesterday?

Woman: We saw lots of exotic animals. My favourite were the polar bears! They've got big bodies but they can swim really well.

Man: So it was fun?

Woman: Yes. Only the weather was not so good. It didn't rain but it was cloudy and cold.

3

Boy: Last year we went on holiday to the mountains. There were many tourists and, unfortunately, they dropped rubbish everywhere. The forest and the streams in the mountains were very dirty. It was really horrible.
