- Boy: What's going on here?
Girl: It's School Art Day today.
Boy: What's that?
Girl: It's a day when students can show off their talents. Look at Caroline, the girl in the red T-shirt.
Boy: Sorry, I can't see her.
Girl: Over there. She's making jewellery at the moment.
Boy: Right. She's got some nice things on the table.
Girl: Yes, she has. Caroline's best friend is Luke. He loves planes because his father is a pilot.
Boy: Is he making model planes right now?
Girl: Yes, he is.
Boy: Cool. And the other girl?
Girl: The girl in the blue T-shirt? That's Monica. She's drawing cartoons. She can draw really well.
Boy: I see. And who are the boys on the stage? Is one of them your brother?
Girl: Yes, my brother Stephen is singing. The other boy is his friend, Mike. He's playing the guitar.

- Boy: Mum, I'm thirsty.
Mum: Have some orange juice.
Boy: Is it in the cupboard?
Mum: No, it's too hot today. I put it in the fridge.

- Boy: My bedroom is small but very comfortable. It's upstairs, in the attic. I've got two chairs and a table and there's a bookcase in the corner. I love reading in my bedroom.

- Dad: Lily, where's Jack? Go and find him. Dinner's ready!
Girl: He's in his room, Dad.
Dad: Is he doing his homework?
Girl: No, Dad. He doesn't want to come out. He's very angry. His test results are very bad.

- Boy: Hi Grace! Do you know the students over there? Are they your friends?
Girl: Yes. The girl reading her science book is Rosie. They're having a test today.
Boy: You mean the one with the long curly hair?
Girl: No, Rosie's got short hair.
Boy: And the girl wearing glasses?
Girl: That's Jessie. She's my best friend. She's very clever. And next to her is her twin brother Jacob. He's very intelligent too but a bit lazy. You can see, he's reading a comic, not a science book.
Boy: And the boy with blonde hair? Why is he reading a history book?
Girl: Oh, that's Dylan. History is his hobby, so he always has a history book with him.

- Woman: So John, you work in a restaurant, right?
Man: Yes, Susan. I actually work in the kitchen. I cut the vegetables, I cook the meat ... We always use fresh products from local farmers. When the food is ready, a waiter comes and takes it to the customer.

- Girl: My parents are artists. My mum is an actress and she always works in the evenings. My dad is a writer and he usually works at home. But I want to be an engineer – I really like making new things.

- Man: So Anna, what do you do?
Woman: I'm a journalist in a small newspaper in my town.
Man: What do you write about?
Woman: Usually about cooking and restaurants.
Man: What's the best thing about it?
Woman: That I can talk to different people every day.

Man: Hi, I'm Stewart. I look after animals because I work at a farm. We haven't got any cows or goats here because it's a farm for exotic animals. We've got three giraffes, ten camels and two elephants. In the future I want to work in a big zoo.

Woman: Hi, John! Do you like your new job?

Man: It's OK but I hate working outdoors. In winter it's very cold, in autumn it's raining, and ...

Woman: ... and now, in summer, it's hot.

Man: That's right. It's too hot to work today.

Girl: Hi, Ben, what are you all doing?

Boy: We're preparing for a party.

Girl: Are these all your friends?

Boy: Yes. But one girl is my sister, Susan.

Girl: What is she doing?

Boy: She's laying the table for the party.

Girl: Yes, I can see her. And who's the boy next to her?

Boy: That's Mike. He's doing the vacuuming because the carpet is dirty.

Girl: What are you going to eat?

Boy: Let's ask Lucy – she's cooking today.

Girl: There are two girls in the kitchen. Which one is Lucy?

Boy: Lucy is cooking pasta. She's wearing a brown T-shirt.

Girl: Oh, right. And who's the boy with the big bag?

Boy: That's Phil. He's emptying the rubbish bin.

Boy: That looks very nice. What's in it?

Woman: There are a lot of vegetables, like onions and carrots.

Boy: Is there any meat?

Woman: No, there isn't. And there isn't any fish. It's good for vegetarians.

Boy: OK, can I have it with some pasta, please?

Woman: Of course.

Girl: At the end of November, people in the USA celebrate Thanksgiving Day. Every year we have a special meal and everyone in my family makes one dish. For example, my grandma always cooks a turkey and my dad helps her with the potatoes. Then my mum makes something sweet – a chocolate cake or some biscuits.

Waiter: Are you ready to order?

Woman: Yes, I'll have chicken, please.

Waiter: Would you like some potatoes?

Woman: Yes, please. And tomato salad.

Waiter: Anything to drink?

Woman: A bottle of mineral water, please.

Waiter: Of course.

Woman: Can I have a bottle of water?

Man: Here you are. That's fifty pence.

Woman: Oh, wait. I also need some pasta.

Man: OK. It's seventy-five pence.

Woman: That's fine. How much is that altogether?

Man: One pound twenty-five.

Woman: Here you are.

Man: Thank you.

Boy: I'm hungry.

Girl: Oh, but there isn't much food.

Boy: Is there any bread?

Girl: Sorry. No bread, so you can't make a sandwich. But there are some sausages.

Boy: Yuck! I don't like sausages.

Girl: Wait, there's some salad. It looks delicious. Do you want some?

Boy: OK. I'll have some salad.

Woman: Taxi! To the airport, please. But can you stop at the bank first, please? I need some money. Oh, and there's a post office next to the bank. Great! I need to post some letters.

Taxi-driver: What time is your plane, madam?

Boy: Mum, what do you want to buy Oliver for his 12th birthday?

Mum: I don't really know. What do you think he'd like?

Boy: He's got a lot of computer games and he's got a new MP3 player, but his mobile phone is quite old. I know he'd love a new one.

Shop assistant: Can I help you?

Girl: Yes, please. I'd like to buy one of these sweatshirts. What sizes have you got?

Shop assistant: We have small, medium and large. Which one would you like?

Girl: Large, please. It's for my brother. He's very tall.

Man: My flat is in a very nice place. It's near a bakery, so I can have fresh bread for breakfast every day. There's also a small zoo nearby. I walk there with my nephews when they visit me at weekends. But when I want to get some books from the library I need to take a bus.

Woman: Our new internet shop, '100 things to make you look good', is a place where you can buy belts and bags, earrings, bracelets and necklaces. They're not expensive, but they can make your dress and jeans look great. Please visit our website.

Man: Excuse me, I'm looking for the train station.

Woman: It's in the centre, next to the library.

Man: How can I get there?

Woman: You can get there by bus.

Man: Is there a bus stop near here?

Woman: Yes, you can catch bus number 1 over there.

Man: Hello, can I help you?

Woman: Yes, have you got any books about Portugal and Spain?

Man: Of course. We've got a lot of travel books over there.

Woman: Thank you.

Woman: Hello, I want to go on holiday to Paris. Are there any trains from London?

Man: Yes. When do you want to travel?

Woman: Next Friday. How much are the tickets?

Man: Train tickets to Paris cost around seventy pounds.

Woman: Oh, that's too expensive.

Man: There are some cheap tickets on Thursdays.

Boy: Hi, Mei. Why are you wearing this costume?

Girl: Because it's Chinese New Year today!

Boy: Do you do anything special on New Year's Day in China?

Girl: Yes, we have a special meal with our families. We also give each other small, red presents. And at night we watch fireworks. It's great.

Woman: Hello everybody! Today is the ninth of February and it's ... International Pizza Day! I love pizza! My favourite type is Margherita. It's simple but delicious. Do you like pizza, too? Call our radio and tell us about your favourite type.

Girl: Hi, Jack, what are you doing?

Boy: I'm reading. I've got a new story! It's exciting. Do you want to read it later?

Girl: No, thanks. You know I like watching films, not reading books!

Boy: Hi, Amy! Are you going to the gym?

Girl: No, I'm going to my skateboarding training. I need to practise a lot. I'm getting ready for the school championship.

Boy: When is it?

Girl: It's next Monday!

Boy: Next Monday? Good luck, then.

Girl: Harry, what are you doing here?

Boy: I'm waiting to buy tickets for the football match tonight.

Girl: But you don't like football, you love skateboarding!

Boy: You're right, I do. But the tickets are a birthday present for my brother. He loves football.

Boy: Mum! My homework's finished. Can I watch a film on TV now?

Mum: Oh, but Daddy is watching a football match now. He always watches football on Wednesdays.

Boy: Oh, dear! I hate football!

Mum: But you can watch a DVD on my computer.

Boy: Thanks, Mum!

Girl: Hi, Ben. What's wrong? You weren't at school today.

Boy: I was at the doctor's.

Girl: Are you ill? Is it serious?

Boy: No, I have a sore throat and a temperature but the doctor says I'm fine. I don't have to stay at home.

Girl: So see you at school tomorrow!

Boy: See you!

Girl: Hi, I'm Julie. I'm a gymnast. Sports people need to have a healthy lifestyle. So I eat lots of fruit and vegetables, I do sports every day and I go to bed early.

Man: What's wrong, Mary?

Girl: I fell down badly and now my arm hurts.

Man: Can you move it?

Girl: No, I can't.

Man: We should go to the hospital.

Girl: You're right. Can you drive?

Woman: ... and the next question is for John. The category is 'Geography'. Are you ready?

Man: Of course.

Woman: The first question is – How high is Mount Everest?

Man: Hmm ... I'm not sure. I know it's a very high mountain. Is it 3,000 metres high?

Woman: I'm sorry but that's the wrong answer.

Man: So, Jane, where do you want to go on holiday this summer?

Woman: How about China?

Man: China? It's an interesting country, but the summers there are very hot and dry.

Woman: Right. How about going to Poland, then? I think I've got a book about Cracow here.

Woman: Wow! Look at this view!

Man: Yes, it's amazing.

Woman: Can we sit down here and rest for a moment?

Man: That's a good idea. Let's have some water. It's really hot today.
